

The following categories are considered family movies: Animation, Children, Classics, Comedy, Family and Music.
List each film category and the number of times it has been rented out.

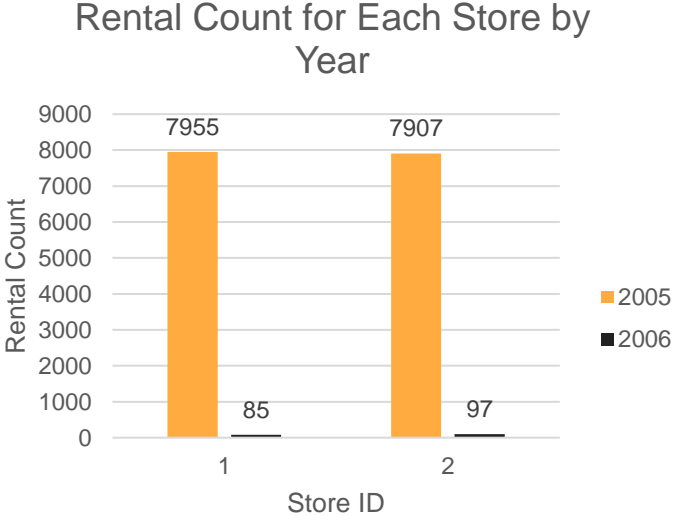

We can see from the graph that the highest rental count is for the animation category.

Provide a graph with the family-friendly film category, each of the quartiles, and the corresponding count of movies within each combination of film category for each corresponding rental duration category.

We can see from the graph that the most rented movies were in the first quartile for the Animation category, the second quartile for the Children category, the third for the Family and Music and the fourth for the Comedy.

Find out how the two stores compare in their count of rental orders during all the years we have data for.

We can see from the graph that the rental count is slightly higher for the first store in 2005 and slightly higher for the second store in 2006.

Find out the top 10 paying customers during 2007

